Identification Challenges

"We have students who live with other families that should be identified as homeless but are not because we do not know about their situations until a crisis occurs."

– Local Liaison

"There was nothing the education system could do because I was too embarrassed to tell them about my homeless situation at the time."

– Youth Interview

NYSTEACHS.org

Assistance Center for Homeless Students

MEASUREMENT

Addressing Identification Problems

Parents/youth hide their homelessness due to feelings of embarrassment or fear.

- Do not use the word “homeless.” Instead, try “students in temporary housing” or similar language.

Parents/youth do not know that their living situation may entitle their child/them to certain protections.

- Be transparent about questions and explain the protections and services available to children who are homeless (e.g., eligibility, priority enrollment).
- Use language to describe homelessness that reflects the living arrangement, (e.g., “doubled-up” or “staying at a shelter”).

Assistance Center for Homeless Students

MEASUREMENT
INCORPORATED

Addressing Identification Problems

Parents/youth don't want everybody to know about their circumstances and are worried that information might be used to negatively stereotype their child/them.

- Discuss living situation in an office where other parents, staff, and students can't overhear.
- Share how the information will be used (e.g., it will only be shared with staff on a need-to-know basis; program is required to report data on temporary housing).
- Provide internal trainings to staff for increased awareness and sensitivity.

- Conduct community assessments that include data on homelessness in the area; levels of poverty among families; trends in foreclosures, evictions, and the availability of affordable housing; and student mobility.
- Work with appropriate district and school authorities to ensure that local policies and procedures comply with the McKinney-Vento Act.

Identification Strategies

- Provide targeted outreach through information sharing and - gathering activities.
 - Housing Questionnaire in district enrollment packet
 - Posting notices of the rights of McKinney-Vento students in the community where family and youth frequent

Determining Eligibility

The local liaison serves as the district's lead homeless education contact and is required to fulfill the duties of the position as established in the Act [42 U.S.C. §11432(g)(6)(A)]. According to the Act [42 U.S.C. § 11432(g)(6)(A)], local liaisons must ensure that children and youth experiencing homelessness are identified by school personnel through outreach and coordination activities with other entities and agencies.
